Ikaria® Canada Joins Canadian Pharmaceutical Distribution Network (CPDN)

Oakville, Ontario January 16, 2012 - The Canadian Pharmaceutical Distribution Network (CPDN) is pleased to announce that Ikaria Canada Inc. (Ikaria) will be joining Canada's leading, cost-efficient delivery network effective January 1st, 2012.

Ikaria is a critical care company whose innovative therapeutics and interventions address the significant needs of critically ill patients. The company's lead product is INOMAX® (nitric oxide) for inhalation, the only Health Canada-approved drug for the treatment of hypoxic respiratory failure associated with pulmonary hypertension in term and near-term infants.

"We are very pleased that Ikaria Canada, Inc. has chosen CPDN as their western Canada partner," says J. Greg Gauthier, President and CEO, CPDN. "CPDN offers Health Canada compliant facilities that utilize a best-practice approach to warehousing and distribution, as well as state-of-the-art WebOMS technology that makes ordering and tracking INOMAX® cylinders easy."

INOMAX is offered through the INOMAX therapy package, an all-inclusive offering of drug product, drug-delivery system, on-site training and 24/7/365 technical assistance and support. The INOMAX therapy package also is marketed in the United States, Puerto Rico, Australia, Mexico and Japan. For Information about Ikaria Canada, contact Jared Rhines, Vice President and General Manager of Ikaria Canada, Inc., at Jared.Rhines@ikaria.com or visit www.ikaria.ca.

About CPDN

Since 1994, CPDN is dedicated to providing the health care industry with a lower-priced delivery solution. As an industry funded service provider, CPDN is a leading distribution channel to Canadian hospitals looking for alternatives to traditional, higher priced intermediaries. All products are sold by their respective manufacturers/distributors. The CPDN Program enables the consolidated ordering and delivery of pharmaceutical products, from a number of independent drug manufacturers, with the streamlined ability to issue one, convenient payment for those products. Additional information about CPDN is available through its corporate website www.cpdn.ca.
